A Complete Service for Group Pilgrimage Organisers

If you plan to organise a pilgrimage for a group of people, our service is for you.

Greencastle Travel Ltd (of which Greencastle Pilgrimage Tours is a division) has earned a reputation for arranging high quality group tours in Europe and worldwide. That reputation is built on our long service in the travel industry – each of our senior staff has well over 20 years' experience.

There can be no company better-qualified to organise your pilgrimage!

We offer a service that is dedicated to providing exactly the right tour for you, incorporating all the features that will be of interest to your group. Every tour is carefully prepared by us and entirely tailor-made to your own specifications.

We will arrange your flights, hotels, airport transfers (in the UK and abroad), excursions, visits and guides. If you wish, we can also deal with all gratuities and book lunches, theatre tickets, Masses and lecturers – we can even provide a tour escort if you prefer not to lead the group yourself.

Planning Your Group's Pilgrimage

Come to us with your idea, or ask us for our touring ideas in the area you want to visit. Throughout the process of planning, arranging and operating each tour to meet your specific requirements, we are always happy to offer advice and recommendations, but the final choice is yours. We aim to provide you with an itinerary that accurately reflects your wishes and those of your group and to ensure complete satisfaction for everyone travelling.

Once the tour is planned in outline we will quote an estimated price, subject to availability – we do not need firm dates at this stage. When you have accepted this quote, in principle and without obligation, we will book the hotels and flights on an option basis, and make you a firm offer for your chosen dates. On your acceptance of this offer, we will confirm all arrangements with suppliers and bookings can commence – it is usually only at this point that we require deposits.

Promoting Your Pilgrimage

Our service includes more than just arranging and operating your tour – effective promotion is a further key feature. To help ensure you achieve the group size you want, we produce colour leaflets for each tour, giving full details of the itinerary, hotels, inclusions, price, travel insurance and everything else your group members need to know. If you wish, we can provide supporting material in the form of hotel and destination brochures. Should you decide to arrange a special event to promote your pilgrimage, often we can take part and help you achieve the best possible results.

Church Travel by Air and Coach

At Greencastle Pilgrimage Tours we include three essential elements in all our packages:

- The Security of Group Travel because when travelling in a party you can relax and let someone else handle the details
- The Convenience of Flying because you want to reach your destination quickly
- The Comfort of Coach Touring because once you arrive at your destination, you want to be driven to your hotel and see the sights in style

There is also a fourth element – The Care and Attention to Detail, born of our many years' experience, which we put into organising and operating each and every one of our tours. You won't be disappointed.

If you like what you hear about our service but want to travel purely by coach, please ask about our Greencastle Pilgrimage Tours By Coach. These are operated through our sister company, Norman Allen Group Travel Ltd. Established in 1972 and under the same ownership and management, it specialises in coach tours throughout the British Isles and Continental Europe.

Prices to Suit Your Budget

We enjoy a reputation for high quality, and to maintain this we will generally use good three star hotel accommodation and scheduled flights with a British carrier or the national airline of your destination country. In creating your pilgrimage we will always strive to offer you maximum value for money. We are keenly aware that budgets vary considerably between our clients and we will always keep in mind the importance of meeting – and if possible exceeding – your expectations.

The Greencastle Advantage

Regulation of the UK travel industry is steadily being tightened, and many airlines – especially low cost carriers – constantly change their policies on group bookings. It therefore makes more sense than ever before for pilgrimage groups to book with a company which takes care of licensing, bonding and liability insurance.

We hold a full Air Travel Organiser's Licence from the Civil Aviation Authority (ATOL 3683) and are bonded accordingly, providing complete security for all our clients.

We also belong to ABTA, the Association of British Travel Agents, the premier travel industry body in the UK, which requires us to have full Tour Operator's Liability Insurance.

We are also proud to be Associate Members of GTOA, the Group Travel Organisers Association.
